During this journey camp, Brownies will have a blast finding out how engineers use "design" thinking to solve problems. The Ambassadors will guide them in three design thinking activities to explore hands on what it is like to think like an engineer. We will also provide materials for your group to work on a design project to help others. Your girls can take their design project with them to share with their community for their Take Action Project to complete their journey.

Price does not include journey award patches

Girls must attend with adult

Adults above safety-wise ratios pay girl rate
